Chart I attached indicates in red the case of CM and PAPS which would continue within the DD/S establishment. The chart indicates that, in addition to PAPS, within the office of ADDS-SS, there would be 3 Analysts and 2 stenographers. There would be a hard core of specialists remaining to perform the PAPS function as presently contemplated with the possible additional responsibilities for reviewing projects, etc., in the immediate support of the DD/S.

Although 2 individuals from each of SSA(Comp), SSA(Log), and SSA(Pers) are indicated as physically moving to their parent offices, the Directors of those offices may choose to absorb their SSA responsibilities and make some further adjustment within their immediate offices in lieu of continuing the SSA concept.

It is contemplated that those elements designated by green on Chart I, and enlarged upon in Chart II, could be transferred to the DD/P to become his Plans Support Staff. Three support units which are totally and inherently DD/P support activities at the present time would be transferred to DD/P, namely, the Visual Aids, Publications Control and General Services functions. If this concept proves to be sound after further detailed analysis, these three special units could be transferred from the immediate office of the DD/S and the positions required for a small support staff could be likewise transferred from the present SSA units to the DD/P.

This general proposal has within it the potential for saving 6 to 10 ceiling slots. Although the suggested plans for a DD/P Plans Support Staff includes 12 positions (plus 1 training officer now in DD/P), it is anticipated that one or two of these positions may be eliminated upon further examination. At the same time the offices of Logistics, Personnel and Comptroller may be able to save one of each of the two positions involved in this relocating of their representatives back into their own immediate offices. As suggested above, this could be accomplished perhaps through the distribution of functions and a strong reassertion by the Director of each of these offices of his responsibility to directly and appropriately support the DD/P.

There is also reflected a possible saving of perhaps 6 positions in the recasting of the PAPS group.
